Your PR Career Starts Here

If you are a college or university student interested in a career in public relations and communications, we invite you to join a student chapter of the Florida Public Relations Association (FPRA).

As the oldest public relations organization in the United States, FPRA has been enhancing the profession and the professional development of our members since 1938.

As a student member of FPRA, your educational experience will be enriched with opportunities to gain professional experience and network with leaders in the field of public relations. Not only can this help you stand out as a job candidate when you graduate, it can help you get your PR career off to a running start in your first professional job.

By joining a student chapter, you'll gain access to opportunities that add real world experience to your studies, allow you to attend a vibrant statewide conference with professional PR practitioners, receive recognition for your student projects and get the inside track on internships and job listings.

Take a step forward for your career with FPRA!

What Can You Do with FPRA?

Gain Experience

Joining FPRA opens up a world of possibilities to get involved, expand your network and gain knowledge and skills. In addition to student chapter involvement, you can attend professional development seminars, workshops and social events held by FPRA at the state level and by its 15 professional chapters.

Make Connections

With FPRA, you'll gain a network of more than 1,200 PR professionals representing many different industries and niches. The Association's exclusive online Membership Directory puts you just a click away from potential mentors, internships and job opportunities.

Attend Annual Conference

This yearly event features nationally recognized speakers, valuable breakout sessions and special events for student members. You'll have the opportunity to meet PR professionals and participate in a field trip. Past locations have included backstage tours and PR talks at Universal Orlando Resort, Walt Disney World, NASA, the Home Shopping Network and Tampa Bay Rays/Tropicana Field.

Use Your Resources

FPRA.org offers exclusive members-only access to a Membership Directory and Job Bank, case studies, professional development articles and webinars, a monthly e-newsletter and exclusive event invitations.

Apply for Scholarships

At the state and local chapter levels, FPRA offers financial support to students seeking degrees in public relations. Scholarships range from $500 to $1,500.

Learn to Lead

Stretch your leadership skills by serving on your student chapter or local professional chapter board of directors or by participating on a committee.

Win Recognition

FPRA's annual Golden Image Awards competition recognizes excellence in the field of public relations. Student categories at both the chapter level and state level offer you the opportunity to submit student projects.

Find Internships and Jobs

FPRA helps student members secure meaningful internships in a variety of industries from tourism to high tech. You'll have access to the FPRA members-only online Job Bank where you just might find the opportunity that launches your career!
